27th Here follows the report

The undersigned the Superintending School Committe present the following Report

The Town although legally constituting but one district has usually been considered as four and in the latter sense we represent it

The Falls district School was kept 26 weeks by Miss Gratia F. Cram the whole number of Scholars who attended the school was 72.

The schools in the other three districts have been kept by Mr Daniel B Eastman, their respective length and the number of scholars attending each were as follows

The Pound district 11 weeks having 97 different scholars the Corner district 16 do 85 do do the North do 13 do 63 dd do

There are but two children to the knowledge of your Committee between the ages of four and fourteen who have not attended school
But with a portion of them there has been a great want of regularity and steady attendance
There are none in the Town to our knowledge between the ages of 14 and 21 who cannot read read and write
The size of the Pound School House is obviously inconvenient for so large a number of scholars, and for a smaller number its construction is unsuitable for a school room

We would express it, our decided opinion that a greater interest should be manifested by the people in our schools and thereby we have no hesitation in saying an increased benefit would be derived
We cannot but hope for a maifest improvement the present year

2 3 2

The Superintending School Committee make the following annual Report respecting the Schools that have been kept in East Kingston during the past year

The town properly speaking consists of but one district though usually considered as comprising four The Schools have been kept in the following manner viz

The Pound school of thirteen weeks was kept by Mr Daniel B Eastman the whole number of scholars that attended the school was one hundred and seven the average attendence sixty five

The North School of thirteen weeks was kept by Mr William Webster the whole number of scholars that attended the school was sixty three the averege attendence a fraction over thirty

The falls school was between sixteen and seven teen weeks Twelve weeks of the School was kept by Miss Hannah B Lawrence the whole number of scholars that attended the school under her instruction was fifty six and the average attendance was forty

The remainder of the School was kept by D B Eastman The whole number of scholars that attended under his instruction was sixty three the average attendance forty

The Corner school (so called) now keeping under the charge of Daniel B Eastman will be about sixteen weeks the whole number of scholars attending the school during the first eight weeks was eighty the average attendance forty

There are n children between the ages of four & fourteen years except one to the knowledge of your Committee but have attended school and no persons between fourteen and twenty one years ~~but~~ who cannot read and write

The apparent progress made in various branches learning has been rather gratifying to the Committee yet there has not that proficiency would have desired to have seen

It is from the irregularity of Many scholars in their attendence at school that it may be discovered why they do not make that progress in their studies they otherwise would

From the whole number of scholars that have attended the schools it will be readily seen that the avereveje attendence is quite small The detrimental consequences releting to our Schools from an irregularity in attendence is hoped will speedily remedied by those whom it may concern

Your Committee are more than ever convinced that there is not that interest taken in the subject of education that should be Money may be raised for the purposes of schooling books may procured and school Houses erected for the benefit ~~of~~ and convenience of the Children and Competent Teachers may be employed to instruct them yet this is not enough Parents masters and Guardians should feel deeply interested in the instruction of the Children under their care and use every effort in their power to encourage them in their studies and induce them thereto be regular in their attendance at School

It is ardently hoped by your Committe that there may be a manifest improvement in our schools that every effort will be made to elevate them to that position which they ought to occupy and always remembering that while Ignorance

Will prove an angel of destruction Knowledge and virtue will be the palladium of our prosperity and the safety of our Country

School Report

The Superintending School Committee of the town of East Kingston, submit the following Report:

All the schools have been visited twice or more.

The following table exhibits the whole amount of money expended, the manner in which it was raised and the propotion expended in each School.

Money raised by taxes for the support of Schools	$281.00
Literary Fund Money from the State	29.34
Surplus money from the State	30.90
Interest paid out of the Town Treasury for Literary Fund Money	36.09
Propotion of Railroad tax required by law to be expended in Schools	14.33
Total amount of School Money	391.66
Corner School	116.07
Pound School	92.67
North School	90.82
Falls School	92.08

The Corner School was kept by Mr. James Moore eleven days. The whole number of scholars was 57, Females 33. Males 24. Average 42.

The Corner School was kept four months two and a half days, by Mr. Edward Hammond, The whole number of scholars was 75. Females 36. Males 39. Average 40. We think Mr. H. was successfull in awakening interest among his pupils, and skilful in his mode of imparting instruction. There was a commendable degree of improvement and the examination was quite satisfactory, save there was too much noise.

The Falls School was kept six months by Miss Gratia J. Cram. The whole number of scholars for the first three months was 70. Females 42. Males 28. Average 48. The whole number for the last three months was 45. Average 30. During the last thrice months, some attended the corner school, This accounts for the great disparity between the First and the Last half of the School.

The general appearance of this School was good.

It is gratifying to see the various means employed to awaken thought, to strengthen memory, to engage the affection and render the acquisition of knowledge a pleasure.

The Summer term of the North School was kept three months and one week by Miss Lydia A. Stevens. The whole No. 36 Females 21. Males 15. Average 21. Miss Stevens is "apt to teach." There was a good degree of improvement in all the studies - and a happy change in the general appearance and manners of the scholars. This School is now in operation under the charge of Mr. Elphalet Webster.

The Pound School (at the date of the return, March 2) has been kept two months and sixteen days, and is to continue about two weeks. The whole number 85. Females 30. Males 55.

There is, on the part of Mr Hammond, an undiminished interest in the proficiency of his pupils. He has labored to the extent of his ability; and the improvement made evinces clearly, that he has not labored in vain. There has been, among the majority in this School, good attention to study and proper respect for the teacher.

We regret being under the necessity of making any exception.

We are happy in being able to express our cordial approbation of the deportment and attention of the greater part of the children and youth, while the Schools have been under our supervision.

The subject of education commends itself to every reflecting mind, and demands that every possible facility should be afforded to the young.

The first element in a good School is an efficient teacher. We should be sure, those persons to whome we commit the charge of our Schools, possess the literary and moral qualifications prescribed by law.

Irregularity in attendance is a serious obstacle to improvement and if parents will remove this obstacle, they will subserve the cause of education and diminish the care and toil of the teacher.

In all our Schools, there is too great a diversity of books. The most approved should be introduced and there should be uniformity

Reform is indispensable to that progress the age demands
It appears to us, that a new school house is needed at the Falls, The present house is old and incommodious,
The location is bad, and there are no conveniences around it, We hope some action will be taken on this subject the ensuing year
A new house should also be erected for the accommodation of the North school, as soon as our fellow-citizens are prepared to incur the necessary expenses
All the hopes of our country cluster around the rising generation, They are soon to be actors upon the stage of life, They are to be the legislators and the executives of law. Our free Institutions must be sustained by them, or fall to the ground, Virtue and intelligence alone can qualify them to maintain liberty and transmit the glorious boon to their posterity,
It is for us to say, instrumentally, whether their character shall be formed after the model of our fathers, who have bequeathed us so goodly an inheritance, or whether by recreancy to our trust, they shall be left to degeneracy in knowledge and morality
The foundation of their character is laid, to a very great extent, in our Common Schools. Too much importance, therefore cannot be attached to them, Well may legislators, patriots and philanthropists exert their utmost ability to elevate them.
They are the nurseries of the world: and according to what we sow, we shall reap. Hence it becomes us to co-operate with all the friends of Education in elevating the standard of sound knowledge, and maintaining order and purity in our Schools. Our precept and example should combine to promote truth, charity and general morality,
And in conclusion, your Committee would be permitted to express their deep solicitude, and the rising generation in this town may keep pace with the age, in literature and general intelligence; form habits of industry, virtue, and benevolence, and thus be prepared for respectability usefulness and happiness.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

East Kingston, March 8th 1849.

Samuel C Brown } Superintending
Jonathan T. Gale } School Committee

Note. Mr Jonathan T. Bailey was a member of the Board, and acted in perfect harmony with us, until he left town.

Report of School Committee

In compliance with with the Statute of New Hampshire Your School committee would ask leave to make the following report of the condition of the Schools in East Kingston

In entering upon this task Your committee would say that the System of Education which was commenced nearly or quite two Hundred Years since can hardly be supposed to be adapted in all its parts to the wants of the present day and though alterations have been made from time to time there exists great and grevious defects which our Legislature and Board of Education are laboring to remove, doubtless the design of our Legislature was in a great measure to aid and the accomplishment of the object that they passed the following act, regulating thus duty of the School committee, Viz.

It shall be the duty of said committe to Examine every person proposing to teach any District School in such town.

to visit and inspect every school at least twice in each year, to inquire into the regulations and discipline thereof and suggest any necessary alteration, to examine the proficiency of the School, and to use their influence that all the youth attend and profit by the Schools therein, and to give a detailed account of the means of instruction in their several towns—this being the easiest and most expeditious way of bringing the subject before the whole people, time after time you have voted to raise money for the support of Schools and then almost left the whole matter to work out its way for the year. And the only notice taken of the Schools has been the complaint that the Scholars do not learn so much as in former times, when but half the money now appropriated was expended; or that there are too many Studies and the time and attention of the Scholars are so divided that they gain but little advantage from the Schools. Complaints, too, are often made that the Instructors are not properly qualified, and have not the tact to govern the Scholars as in former days, and that the money is often spent and wasted to little or no purpose. If persons who entertain such prejudices would but for a moment compare the present discipline with the past, they would be ready to exclaim that parental discipline at home is not so rigedly inforced now as it was in the days of our ancestors and we do not believe that any Intelligent person would harbor any such complaint if they would but ponder and meditate upon this subject carefully.

We are of opinion that you only want to be convinced of the evils, and the magnitude of their pernicious tendency to apply the remedy. That there are defects in our schools which the parents alone can remedy, no one will attempt to deny. One is a want of Punctuality and constant attendance at the Schools, by the returns made by the Teachers of the Schools of the Summer Terms, of the attendance and the average attendance, it appears that nearly two Sevenths of the time of the Scholars is lost by absence an error which should excite the attention of every parent here, then, is one cause why scholars do not learn more than they do, we wish that our schools were better known and better understood, It is because they are so little known that they are so little attended to. Not more than ten or twelve heads of families throughout the town ever visit our schools, where they send their children, year after year to learn that which may be their weal or woe. through all time. and the children seeing so little interest felt by their parents in the schools, take comparatively less Interest in their studies than they would were their parents more alive to their duties. It is time that something was done to raise the character of our schools. Fellow Citizens seven Eighths of your Children are educated in these schools and receive all the elements of instruction which they ever obtain. we would also urge upon every Citizen the necessity of frequent visitation to the schools We can but coincide with the sentiments expressed by an eminent writer. We know of nothing that has a greater tendency to improve the condition of our schools than the frequent visits they have received from parents and others. it has awakened in teachers a sense of their accountabil ity, and inspired them with a desire to meet the expectations of those who have employed them it has taught them that they must rely solely upon the faithful. conscientious and successful performances of their duties for the approbation of the public. Scholars will conduct themselves with more propriety, engage in study with more interest and labor with more Earnestness, when the School is frequently visited The practice is beneficial in every way, and we sincerely believe will do more towards reforming a bad school, awakening an interest in dull scholars, and arousing the ambition of a poor teacher, than any thing else that can be devised, we urge upon all, therefore, to encourage, by precept and example the frequent visitation of our schools. The length of the Summer term at the Corner was twelve weeks and was taught by Miss Julia A. Gove the whole number of Scholars 74 average number 55

3 2 8

The length of the winter term was nine weeks and was taught by Mr. S. B. Gove the whole number of Scholars 72 average 43
The summer term at the falls was under the care of Miss Priscilla Hilliard. length of the School thirteen weeks. the whole number of Scholars 50 average 31
The winter was under the care of Mr. E. F. Webster length of the School ten weeks and three days the whole number of Scholars 40 average 28
The summer School at the Pound School House was under of Miss L. A. Gove the length of the term two months and four days the whole number of Scholars 62 average 50
The winter school was under the care of Mr. S. B. Gove the length of the term two months and one day the whole number of Scholars 64 average 40
The summer school at the North was Kept by Miss P. Hilliard nine weeks. the number of Scholars 27 average 16.
The winter School at the North was Kept Mr. E. F. Webster nine weeks and three days whole number of Scholars 26 average 20
Your Committee. in conclusion, are of the opinion that our Schools have made a very ~~un~~ apt[i]able improvement during the past year and are in a flourishing condition. but they are far from what they soon will be if the cooperation of all concerned can secured for the promotion of their Interest
It lies with all of us whether our Schools shall be increased and made better. If the past be a index of the future we may promise much improvement yet in these fortresses of Liberty and Good order

All of which is Respectfully Submitted
